

NEEDN'T HAVE TO

Didn't need to (do) and needn't have (done)

I didn't need to ... = it was not necessary for me to ... (and I knew this at the time):

- I didn't need to get up early, so I didn't.
- I didn't need to get up early, but it was a lovely morning, so I did.

I didn't have to ... is also possible in these examples.

I needn't have done something = I did it, but now I know that it was not necessary:

- I got up very early because I had to get ready to go away. But in fact it didn't take me long to get ready. So, I needn't have got up so early. I could have stayed in bed longer.

You should have done something = you didn't do it, but it would have been the right thing to do:

- You missed a great party last night. You should have come. Why didn't you?
(= you didn't come, but it would have been good to come)
- I wonder why they're so late. They should have arrived long ago.

You shouldn't have done something = you did it, but it was the wrong thing to do:

- I'm feeling sick. I shouldn't have eaten so much. (= I ate too much)
- She shouldn't have been listening to our conversation. It was private.
(= she was listening)

Compare should (do) and should have (done):

- You look tired. You should go to bed now.
- You went to bed very late last night. You should have gone to bed earlier.
